WHAT

Creates capacity in school-based leadership teams to design and implement high-quality programming for all learners. Partnering schools receive coaching in school-wide system and teacher and leadership development to ensure all students excel socially, mentally, and academically.

PROGRAMMING

- Building an Inclusive Classroom using Universal Design for Learning (UDL)
- Creating Multi-Tiered Systems of Supports (MTSS)
- Supporting Behavior through a Trauma-Informed Lens
- Mastering Accommodations and Modifications
- Self Contained Classrooms Through an Equity Lens
- Building Structures for Multilingual Learner (MLLs)
- Customized supports as needed

The ongoing work and partnership we have with SELF is truly a game-changer. We’ve started to not only have larger conversations around changes in instructional design and practice but also there are mindset shifts happening.”

—Courtney Vickers,
Vice President of Diverse Learners,
Alliance College-Ready Public Schools
