Information About Your Service Credit and Contributions

Your TRSL service credit is credited to you as a TRSL member. Service credit for benefit computation determines how much your retirement benefit will be. Service credit for eligibility determines when you can receive a retirement benefit. (If you have part-time service, you may have additional service credit for eligibility that is not reflected on this statement. Contact your employer to verify that your part-time service has been certified to TRSL, and consult a TRSL counselor to determine your earliest retirement eligibility date or DROP entry date.)

Your member contributions may be withdrawn only in the following instances:

- Termination of employment with a TRSL employer
- Upon your death, if no survivor benefits are payable

DOE JANE A

Regular Plan

It's never too early to plan for your retirement!

TRSL provides valuable benefits, including:

- RETIREMENT benefits when you reach the required retirement eligibility (age and years of service credit)
- DISABILITY benefits should you become totally and permanently disabled while in active service*
- SURVIVOR benefits for certain family members should you die while in active service*

*Must have the required years of service

Visit TRSL's website at www.trsl.org for more information on these important benefits, including our publications TRSL Member Handbook, DROP Handbook, Disability Retirement, and Death & Survivor Benefits.

Retirement Eligibility Requirements for Regular Plan
SERVICE ELIGIBILITY	5 years at age 60 • 20 years at any age (reduced benefit) • 25 years at age 55 • 30 years at any age
DROP ELIGIBILITY	The first time you reach one of the following: 10 years at age 60 • 25 years at age 55 • 30 years at any age

Projected Retirement Eligibility and Benefit Estimate for DOE JANE A

The following table shows a projection of your retirement eligibility dates and your maximum TRSL retirement benefit based on various retirement scenarios. The projections are based on current information as reported by your employer(s) and assume continuous TRSL-covered, full-time employment. The final average compensation (FAC) is an average of your current highest three (3) consecutive years of earnings as submitted by your employer. Future salary increases are not included in the FAC used in these projections.

This estimate is provided to help you make informed decisions about your retirement benefit and is not a guarantee of when you will be eligible for the amount you will receive at the time you retire. The actual pension you receive at retirement and when you will be eligible to retire are determined by state law. When you retire, your pension will be calculated according to the applicable retirement calculation formula.

Scenario	Fiscal Year of Eligibility	Service Credit for Eligibility	Service Credit for Benefit Computation	Age	FAC (Monthly)	Maximum Monthly Benefit Amount
Early Retirement	Currently Eligible	24.50	24.50	49	8,074.11	3,172.00
Regular Retirement/DROP Eligibility	2030 - 2031	30.00	30.00	54	8,074.11	6,956.00

The estimates provided are based upon the eligibility requirements applicable to the retirement plan you belong to. You are currently eligible for a early retirement benefit based on a 2% benefit factor or a 2.5% actuarially reduced factor. The age shown for future benefits is your age at July 1 of the fiscal year you become eligible. Contact TRSL for more information on your retirement options.

DROP = Deferred Retirement Option Plan

If you choose to name a beneficiary, your monthly benefit amount may be lower. Use TRS's online calculator at www.trsl.org to calculate projections of your Service or DROP benefits.
